

E-Learning Assignment for October 31

Since the vast majority of our bands students will not have an instrument at home, it will not be possible to do an E-Learning assignment based on our class work.

Instead - I am posting the video from Bands of America last weekend. Unfortunately, the video from this weekend is an HD video and too large for our website to upload.

This weekend, our band members had the best performance of the season. While we did not advance to the state championship - I am beyond proud of this group. This will always be one of my all-time favorite shows that the Pride of Plymouth has done over the last decade.

Today, we can all celebrate a great season together by watching the band's performance at BOA. After you watch the video, simply use the "Homework Submit" feature to send me a message that you watched the video. If you have any thoughts or comments on the video and the performance, feel free to send them as well.

Congrats on a great season to our Pride of Plymouth band members!
